Miss E. O. Howard, B.A.

Born in Glengarry County, in the province of Ontario, Miss Howard attended public school in the little village of Lancaster, and high school in the still smaller village of Williamstown.

Most of the pupils came to Williamstown from neighbouring farms and hamlets, converging on the village every Monday in all types of horse-drawn vehicles, boarding there all week, about half-a-dozen to a house, and scattering away to their homes on Friday.

During the week, recreation was limited to the period between four o'clock and six. Homework occupied every evening. One sat down about seven o'clock and did one's assignments whether they took one hour or five.

"The principal of the school dictated our lives," Miss Howard recalls, "not only during school hours but at other times as well. Many an evening we would hear a loud peremptory knock which chilled our young hearts as much as the knocking on the gate did Macbeth's and when our landlady opened the door, we listened with bated breath to the principal's deep, stern voice asking, 'Are all your students in and at work?' and when she had assured him that we were, and he had gone, we would scamper to see the receding figure of Authority as it stalked away into the night."

Miss Howard confessed that there was, of course, quite a lot of underground fun, but declared that on the whole the work routine was formidable.

While at McGill University in Montreal, Miss Howard lived in the girls' residence, specialized in English, saw her first stage play, heard her first grand opera, had her first ride in an automobile, belonged to the Public Speaking and Debating Society, played basketball, and became girls' senior president in her final year.

Having graduated in May, 1914, Miss Howard came to Edmonton to teach at H. A. Gray Public School. Later she was vice-principal there, and then principal of Delton. Finally she found herself teaching high school English, History, Geometry and Algebra at the Old Technical High school on 95 street.

"What a school! What a life!" Miss Howard exclaimed. "The place had once been the city car barns. Having deteriorated too much to house Edmonton's street cars, it was given over to education. I taught English in a grim little central room with a leaky roof. The room was separated by only plywood walls from the shops. The millinery class kept their materials in an enormous cupboard on the only side of my room not bounded by a shop, and right behind my back was the only tap and sink available for the art classes. Talk about the Gateway to the North! As I taught, budding milliners burrowed in the cupboard for bits of wire and velvet and this and that, potential artists came and went to wash their brushes and fill their dishes with water, and now and again one of these intruders would stand ruminatively chewing his gum and staring at me in the most unnerving way before he went about his business. But ignoring them all as best I could, and adjusting my voice to the scream of the buzz-saw, the whine of the lathes, and the thud of the printing-press, I doggedly tried to reveal to my patient pupils the magnificence of Shakespeare and the delicacy of Shelley.

That old edifice was finally abandoned, and we moved into one on First Street—a discarded market building this time."

Transferred from Tech to Vic, Miss Howard taught some English and a lot of Drama, having studied the latter subject at the University of Washington and at Columbia.

There followed years when Miss Howard directed plays for Vic and for the Little Theatre, and for the University of Alberta Summer School where she sometimes taught.

"Those were my vintage years," said Miss Howard nostalgically.

She is proud that she was given the Canadian Drama Award for her activities in the drama field.

Asked if she had any message for the 1957 graduates, Miss Howard said, "Well not a message exactly; but if I were a good fairy that had power to endow each graduate with some quality that he lacks, I should make sure that each one was equipped with honesty; and after that I'd check for courage and kindness. I believe that the world could be a very good place if we all had the courage to be honest and kind in thought and word and deed."

"But what about intelligence?" Miss Howard was asked. "Wouldn't you need to endow some of the graduates with that?"

"Oh," she said with a twinkle, "all Vic graduates have brains!"

Dedication

Mr. R. K. Colter, B.A., M.A.

Mr. Robert Kennedy Colter was born on Feb. 23, 1892, in Medicine Hat, Assiniboia, in the Northwest Territories (capital city, Regina) which makes him 13 years older than the province, which later became his home. He received his public and high school education in the Medicine Hat schools.

When asked to name some incidents in his early school days he said, "Well! I remember school being let out one day so we could fight a prairie fire which was bearing down upon our institution of learning. On another occasion I remember some boys killing a rattlesnake in the corner of the school yard while the younger 'fry', including myself, stood by, looking on with admiration. In those days one of our ambitions was to kill a rattlesnake and strip it of its rattles—an ambition which many of us later realized. I also recall school being let out one day at 3 p.m. when news arrived of the death of Queen Victoria."

"That was a great ranching country from which thousands of head of cattle were shipped each year to eastern markets. It was not uncommon—and a great sight—to see cowboys driving huge herds of cattle and occasionally fording them across the South Saskatchewan river. As we grew older it was every boy's ambition to become a cowboy and most boys of 12 years of age, including myself, had a horse to ride. For extra adventure we sometimes adjourned to the stock yards where we mounted, and in most cases were thrown from dogies (range calves). It was great sport."

"When a boy quit school in those days there were two chief occupations which he might follow—work for the railroad or become a ranch hand. I by-passed them both to become a teacher."

"In my final year in High School called Standard VIII (now called grade XII), Dr. Tory, president elect of the University of Alberta, about to open in September 1909, addressed our graduating class (5 students), describing the advantages of a university education. Then and there I decided to get a university education. Had I entered the U. of A. that fall I would have graduated with the first graduating class in 1912. However, I went teaching for 3 years. The current salary in those days was $720 a year."

Mr. Colter entered the U. of A. in 1912. Four years later he was elected president of the Students' Union. Before the year was over, however, he went overseas as a gunner in the Canadian Field Artillery bearing the number 1215215.

He saw service in France in those final thrilling 6 months of the war which took him from Vimy Ridge to Mons on the evening of November 10, 1918, where the opening engagement of the war—between German and British troops—had taken place 4 years earlier. Following the Armistice, next day, the march to Cologne, Germany, began, passing near the old battle field of Waterloo in Belgium.

With other Canadian soldiers he was permitted to return to England to the Khaki University at Refon, Yorkshire, to study University courses while awaiting transportation home. Here he was also elected president of the Students' Union. "The highlight of the stay here", he said, "was when the student body chartered a train which carried its 1,000 members to the seaside resort at Scarborough for a day's outing."

Mr. Colter returned to Alberta in 1919 and a year later got his B.A. degree. In 1920 he was offered the position of Inspector of schools by the Alberta Government but turned it down. The next year he also got himself a wife, after waiting seven years for her to grow up. (He taught her in his first school). He earned his M.A. degree in 1935.

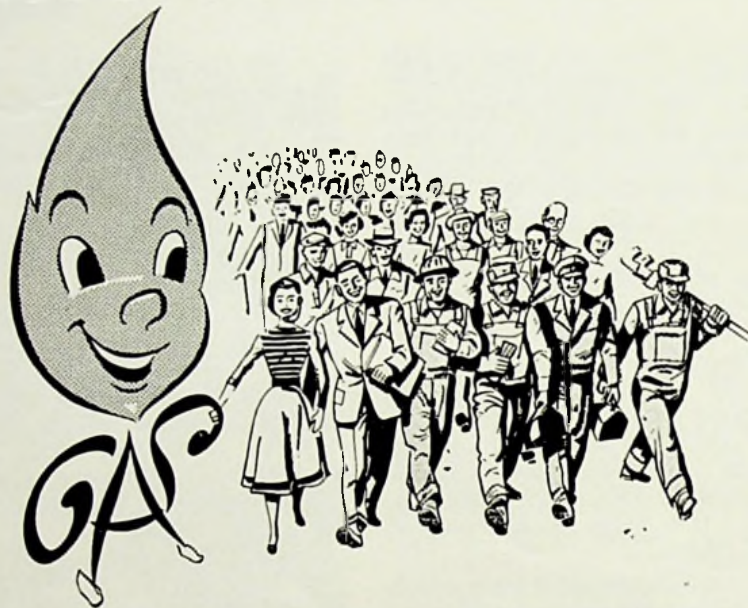

"Casey" Colter was an active baseball and hockey player in the towns of Redcliff, Peace River town, Hardisty and Innisfail, where he held down principalships. While at the University he played hockey on the University Team and was also president of the hockey club while there.

The Colters have three sons, all having doctor's degrees—two Ph. D's and one M.D.

"Vic used to be more of an academic school then, (1929-49) than it is now," he reflected, "and standards were higher, due to stiffer Departmental examinations". From 1947-1950 he was president of the High School Teachers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Colter, who have already traveled in eight of the ten provinces and forty-two of the forty-eight states of the U.S. plan to "pick up" the remaining half dozen in the next two winters and then are looking forward to visiting several of the countries of Western Europe in 1959 or 1960. He has lived during the reigns of six British sovereigns. His parting remark—"It was with shaking knees that I entered my first class room, January 14, 1910, and it is with shaking knees that I leave my last one—in the first case the cause was Mother's sons and daughters; on this occasion it is Father Time".

Mr. McFarland's Message to the Grads

"There is a tide in the affairs of men,
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life is Bound in shallows and in miseries.
On such a full sea are we now afloat;
And we must take the current when it serves,
Or lose our ventures."

For you who are graduating, this is the year of decision. You have had twelve years of reasonably smooth sailing, with an abundance of good skippers, navigators, and other advisers to share your responsibilities with you. Now you are about to take the helm in your own hands and to launch out into the great unknown.

The tide is running—full and deep. Will your craft rock idly in the harbour, will it venture timidly along the shallows of the coast? Or will it sail boldly out into the vast world-ocean of exciting lands and challenging ventures?

The question arises: Are there still frontiers to challenge the bold and adventurous spirits of our 1957 graduands.

The physical frontiers may be fast disappearing, but what of those other even more intriguing ones, the frontiers of the mind?

What lies ahead in the field of medicine? Who is to discover the cause and cure of our great killing diseases such as cancer? One of you?

Who will solve the problem of feeding the hungry millions in many lands? One of you?

Who will be instrumental in winning the war against ignorance, distrust and fear, and all "issues" that are evil? Some of you?

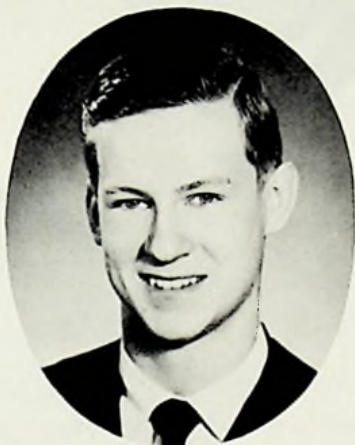

There is no final limitation, no end, to these frontiers.

What will be your choice?

We hope to hear great things about you and pray that God's blessing will go with each one of you in the Class of 1957.

"For all experience is an arch where through Gleams that untravelled world whose margin fades
Forever and forever as I move."

Valedictory

BILL HOLDEN

Tonight we are being honoured with these festivities to signify the completion of our studies in this high school, and to say farewell to Vic, our teachers, and each other. Anyone, I assure you, seeing all the smart looking young men and women assembled here this evening could not help but be optimistic about the future. We are celebrating not only the end of high school, but the commencement of new experiences; just as the setting sun marks the close of a day, it also marks the beginning of a new day. The end of one task; the beginning of a new one.

Up to this time all our work has been guided so as to be of benefit to us. Let us justify the faith which our teachers have in us, for they are judged by the quality of the future generation.

It would be wrong to imply that at Vic all was "blood, sweat, and tears." Even though our high school days are drawing to a close, who can forget Lindberg plowing over left tackle for a touchdown; Mr. McFarland smouldering over the P.A. one day about lunch papers, only to commend us the next on our behaviour at the annual political rally preceding Student Union elections; or the romantic air of "Bunnie's Bounce?" Each student cannot help remembering such features and incidents as are most in harmony with his individual outlook. The lighter side of our high school days was that which informally educated us in compatibility at work or play with our fellow man. This is why Vic's contribution to good citizenship has always been in a high proportion to its size. A record to be proud of is that its alumni have achieved some of the highest positions of leadership in business and in the professions.

Gradually we will have to rely more and more upon our own efforts. In college, the amount of good we will derive from the education will be directly proportional to the effort; likewise, the success we make of ourselves will depend upon the degree of ambition and initiative. All of you, at one time or another, have heard the story of Robert Bruce and the spider, and how the spider exerted effort until on the last exhaustive push it succeeded, giving Bruce inspiration. It was all push that did it. Just depend on the push like the spider.

We are nearing the end of our education.

"Life with her problems and lessons severe

Has added your name to the roll,

And you have commenced the long path to be trod
Before you can win to your goal."

Up till now we have merely been taught how to learn. The end of our school work means the commencement of those experiences which will put to the test the principles we have learned.

Today more than ever, the clamor is raised about the need for more engineers, scientists, doctors, technicians, and similar workers, because a country's position in the world depends to a large extent upon the number of men and women it has in these fields. But, for more engineers we need more teachers, and good ones, too. At Vic our teachers are of the highest calibre, tending to convince us that in the future all of our teachers will be the same; but I assure you that such will not be the case unless some of you bright students decide to do Canada and your children a good turn by being teachers. The decision rests in your hands. Regardless of the future though, our real goal is the application of our knowledge, our talents, to an everchanging society.

In a few weeks, the final hurdle will be encountered—the final exams. I wish you the utmost success, and may your hopes and dreams be realized to the fullest degree. I also hope that in the years to come our name will reflect credit upon the institution which was our home during the formative period of our lives.

"FROSH DAY"

SADIE HAWKINS' DAY

WHITE GIFT WEEK

Class History

To Alice, it didn't seem three years had gone by since she had first set foot in Vic. Why it seemed only yesterday that Rod Morgan had been appointed editor of the Argosy, Doreen Wright editor of the Yearbook, and Dolores Shymko editor of the newly inaugurated Argo. Howie Starkman had just started his term as president and Shirley Sollanych as vice-president.

Pictures flashed in front of Alice. She was kicking up her heels at "Kickapoo Kapers", then flying high at "Spaceman's Spree". She could still hear her skirt swishing as she twirled to "Melodies in Springtime", and could she ever forget the "Blossoms and Beaux" spring semi-formal? Clyde Watt, Murdeen Finlayson and their social committee deserved a lot of credit for their hard work in organizing these dances.

As Sport Beat came on the radio, Alice's thoughts turned from dancing to the time when Vic's Senior Rugby Team lost to Sep. However, the basketball team made up for it by beating Westglen High for the City Championship. The Junior White Girls also won the city finals in basketball. Those were exciting times!

From sports Alice's thoughts meandered to drama. "Our Town" was the play she saw that year. With June Ferguson's directing and Tony van Straubenzee and Beverly Havard's heartwarming performances, the play was a success.

The Grad Dance of year 54-55, organized by grad president Shirley Sollanych, was one thing Alice had missed but she heard it had been a success. How fast that year had gone. Alice was ready to start her second year at Vic.

The first thing that Alice remembered during the second year was what fun she had had on frosh day. After all she was a senior now. While the frosh stood in ave of president Lionel Jones, vice-president Carole Horton, Argosy editor Dolores Shymko, and Yearbook editor Edward Hauptman, Alice was slightly acquainted with them.

The C. O. Hicks and J. Percy Page awards for 54-55 went to Howie Starkman and Shirley Sollanych for their contribution to school activities.

She smiled when she remembered that Vic had won the Provincial High School Rugby Championship. How they had celebrated! Then the crowning glory came when Vic's Senior Boys' Basketball Team won the Provincial Basketball Title. It was quite a year in sports.

It was quite a year in other ways. Vic presented its first musical, "Conflict in Ebony". Thanks to direction by Mr. Kaasa and Mr. Lopatka and the hard work of the cast, the musical was a success. Alice shivered as she thought of the "Cat and Canary". It was a good mystery and everyone enjoyed it.

Thomson 5/51

But this wasn't all that was to occur this year. Alice laughed as she saw again the ridiculous costumes of "Sadies Stomp". Then she sighed as she heard the music of "Kotton Kapers" once more. Gary and his social committee had done a fine job that year. The Grad Dance had also been a success under the leadership of Carole Horton and her committee. Thus another year passed in Alice's high school life. Just one year to go!

Alice was completely at home now. She was a friend of president John Taylor, vice-president Gail Robertson, Argosy editor Florie Rubin, Yearbook editor Michael Whitla, Handbook editor Eileen Ewart, and Argo co-editors Sharon Saul and Renee Bodnarchuk. These were the people she had started going to Vic with.

David McLean and Carole Horton won the C. O. Hicks and J. Percy Page awards for 55-56 which were presented at a Lit near the beginning of this term.

This term brought a few disappointments, but they were met with triumphs. Although the Senior Rugby Team lost to Eastglen, and the Senior Boys' Basketball Team lost to St. Joe's, the Badminton Team and the Girls' Senior Basketball Team won the City Championship in each sport. Alice could think of Vic's prowess in sports with a feeling of satisfaction.

Not only did Vic excel in sports, but also in drama. The musical "The Fortune Teller", and yearplay "Missouri Legend" were highly praised. Alice was especially proud of the musical, since she was in it. Thanks were due to Mr. Peacocke and Mr. Lopatka for their efforts to make Vic stand out culturally.

The dances were fun. Alice had won a prize at "Dogpatch Drag". "Bunnies' Bounce" was also remembered for its introduction of spring clothes. The social committee had not been put to shame by preceding years.

Another big event occurred this year. The cafeteria was put into use! Alice especially remembers this event because she had dropped a tray and had become embarrassed. With the inauguration of this service came the feeling of still closer unity with schoolmates.

At last, along with other graduands, it was her turn to walk across the stage and receive her diploma, before a capacity audience of parents, teaching staff, and friends. The big event came with the Grad Dance, organized by grad president Richard Scott and his committee. The past three years had been brought to a climax at this formal banquet which marked the end of high school years and the opening of still another gate on the road of Life.

Grad Class Prophecy

Dear Diary,

Well, here I am, at the end of a hectic day, May 24, 1967. This trip back to Edmonton has really brought back old memories, and I've found the brisk dry weather a good change from the damp coastal climate.

This morning saw me roaming about the halls of Victoria Composite, and I must say the place looks the same as ever. The walls gleamed from a freshly applied paint job, and when I dropped in at the main office, there was Mr. MacFarland, the same as ever, except a little thinner on the upper part of his anterior region. He proudly showed his office with a recently installed television-P.A. system. Just as I was leaving the office Rona Margolus, Vic's drama teacher, burst in to inquire why the Journal photographer hadn't arrived yet. The head stenographer, Elaine Waddington, calmly assured her he would arrive shortly, and turned back to the task of assigning detentions to a tardy student.

Up in the gym I saw Joe Bedford and George Bre-Win leading a physical education class through strenuous calisthenics. (It seemed so to them, anyway.) However, I must remember to credit them on the championship teams they have produced since joining the school staff three years ago. Vic's accomplishments in the athletic field are known even in Vancouver. Other teachers I met at Vic this morning (all graduates of 1956-57), were: Liz Craig in the Home Economics Department, Duncan Hunter in Mr. Fowler's Chem. lab, Lois Dean, presently directing the musical "Fortune Teller" that was such a success ten years ago, and Esther Estrin, Dean of Girls and Vic's art teacher.

This afternoon I went sight-seeing and noticed an uptown office door with "Ernest Jackson, Chartered Accountant" printed in black and white.

Visiting the Y.W.C.A., I saw Lorna Maximchuck, Director of the Physical Education Department, teaching games to pre-school children. Across from the Seven Seas I noticed the sign "Jackson's Gym", and on closer inspection read "Pat Jackson, Proprietor-Specializer in Self-Improvement." Soon after I met Bonnie Foster garbed in a nurse's cloak, hurrying off to the four o'clock shift at the University Hospital.

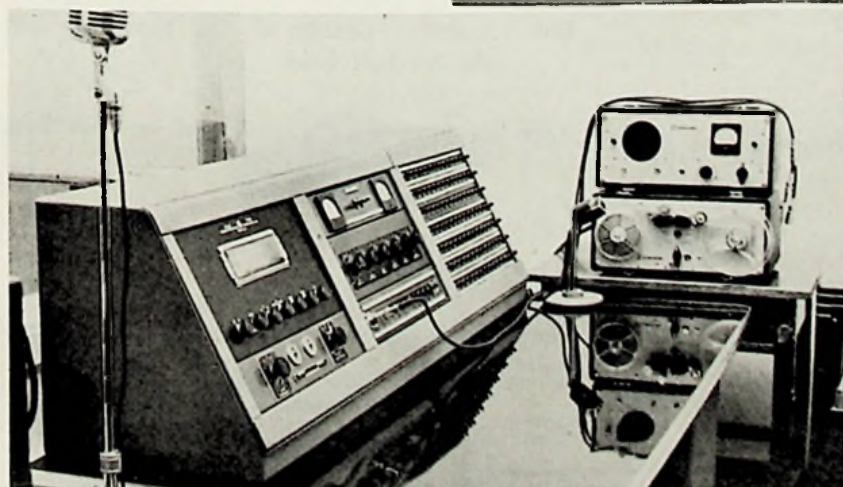

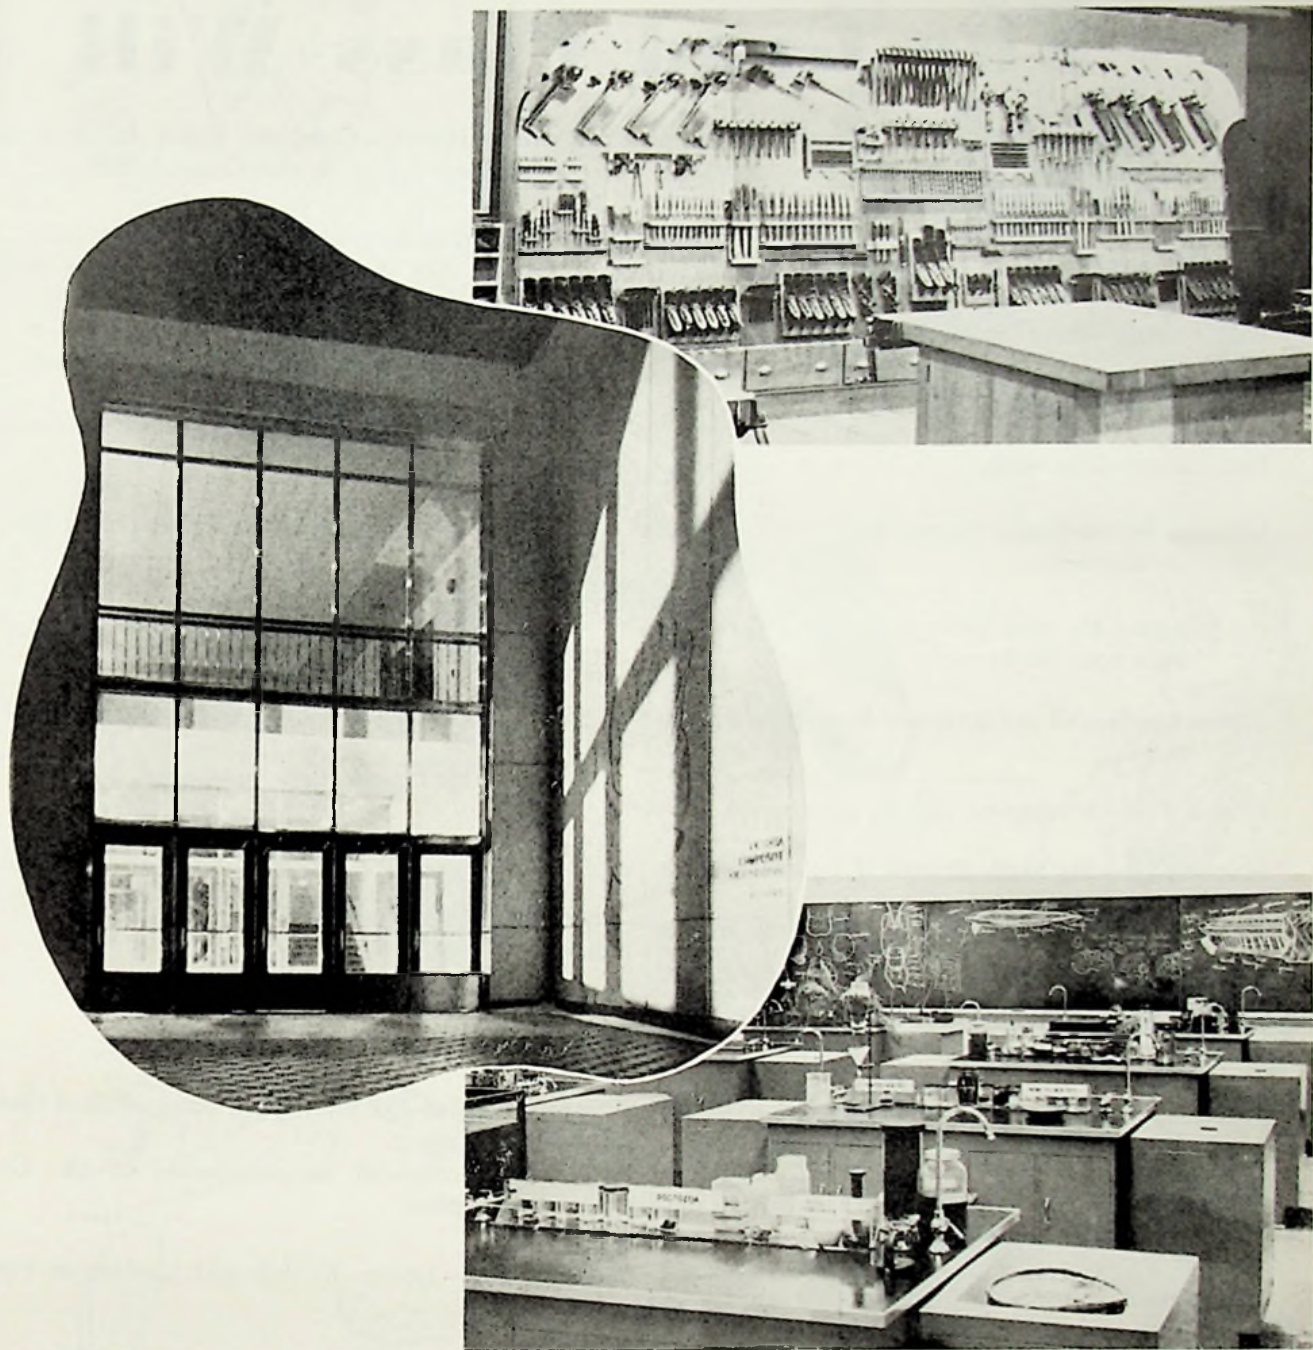

After visiting with Maureen Hewco in the Maternity Ward in the Royal Alex this evening, I bumped into Ansley Day and Lil Cook, who proudly showed me Maureen's latest arrival. As I passed the hospital lounge, I caught a glance of Wally Kirk's face on the TV set—advertising some kind of product.

While waiting for the bus, I met two members of the students' union of 1956-57, Gail Robertson and John Taylor. Gail has since obtained her Bachelor of Science in Laboratory Technician, and John informed me that he is still pursuing his ambition of ten years ago—"To do nothing in particular and a lot of things in general."

Two distinguished-looking gentlemen whizzed by me in a Mercedes 300 SL, driven by a one Jack Ondrack. The other one was Michael Vantour, who struck one of his first oil wells five years ago, and is now a multi-millionaire.

After I arrived back at the hotel and was settling down to the late movie on television, Leroy Shultz appeared on the commercial to outfit his model Mrs. Jenny Strifler, in the latest shoes.

So ends this visit to Edmonton, and then I am off to the Yukon to see the University of Alberta Engineers (so many of them), previous Vic graduates seeking to fulfill their ambition of renaissance up North.

Message from Our Grad President

JOHN TAYLOR

The keys to your future lie in the use of the past in the present. How many "past keys" to the doors of the future will you have acquired in the last ten months at Vic?

To the many people who have shown us how to open those doors we owe a debt which can only be repaid by successfully using that which they have shown us. Our teachers, who aren't really teachers, but what is more important, they are people who help us younger people to learn; our administrators who had to be great to make a school, as great as Vic is, run as well as it has in this last term; the office staff who not only had the masses of paper-work any office has, but in addition kept track of everyone in the school; our care-taking staff who kept "the finest school in Western Canada" in the finest condition are the people to whom the credit for our progress in high school must be given.

Our Students' Union; what have you given to it to make it what it was in '56-'57? What have you given to our clubs and teams, our boards and committees? Our Students' Union isn't supposed to give us activities on a golden platter, but rather to give us an opportunity to take them and make them. A Students' Union should help you to learn to participate and contribute, and if you have the ability, to lead.

We have seen students in this last term who are to become leaders of men and women in the days to come. Not only leaders in council and executive positions, but on the football fields of the future, on the stages and in the editorial rooms of tomorrow, and leading new students down the path of knowledge that they had taken at Vic.

Perhaps what Vic has most to offer is the chance to meet people. People to talk with, walk with, learn with, laugh with. These people whom we call our school mates today, and whom we will call our business associates, maybe, perhaps, wives and husbands to-morrow. Being with so many people is an opportunity which cannot be denied, because in the future we are going to have to depend on them so much.

Vicites have fought well in this last term, a term which has seen victory and defeat, success and disappointment. A term which has seen us take our wins in stride, and our set-backs graciously. In any field of endeavor, from swimming to drama, from basketball to bowling, we have fought to win, and have won by fighting. In many ways, both large and small, we have added, to Vic, prestige and tradition which will not be lost in the school days yet to come.

This year a few hundred more Vicites will be joining those who have taken their position in the world outside. A world from which there is no return to the world of "teens" except on the wings of memory.

For yesterday is but a dream,
And tomorrow is only a vision,
But today, well lived, makes,
Every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow a vision of hope.

To say good-bye is to forget. But to forget V.C.H.S. is, for myself, impossible, and therefore, Vicites, I can only say to you—take what things those who have gone before have given you, and with them keep Vic the best school that the oil capital of Canada has and will see.

Students' Council

The Students' Council, with John Taylor acting as chairman, and Mr. Ward advising, convened every second Wednesday at eleven-thirty in the library. This body, composed of room representatives and the executive, was vested with the legislative and administrative powers of the Students' Union. Many important issues concerning the school's welfare were discussed and decided upon by this active body.

The thirteen members of the Student Executive met in the students' office every other Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. It was here that the various matters were brought up, discussed and carried over to the council meetings.

This year the Students' Union of V.C.H.S. was witness to many new innovations, amongst them the cafeteria, the Booster Club, the Noon Entertainment committee, Presidents' council, the new filing system, and most important of all the new responsibilities assumed by the Students' Union.

Early in October the mechanisms for operation "B.C." were put in action. This club was organized to increase school spirit and promote school activities. "Boostie", the mascot was soon purchased as well as large red and white booster buttons, and on Thursday, January 17, the Booster Club made its debut — a "first" for Victoria Composite.

Accompanying the introduction were the spirited voices of our students, who filled the auditorium singing the new school songs. It was one of the most successful "Lits" ever and proved the testing ground for our "school song contest".

A suggestion box was put up in the main office. Once again the Publications Staff sponsored White Gift Week.

"Eskimo Day" was held upon the return of the Grey Cup Champions, following which "Hard-time Day" stepped into the limelight. This preceded our Sadie Hawkins dance "Dogpatch Drag" which was an outstanding success. "Doll-up Day" was next. "Anti-Jean Day" was induced by the visit of the inspectors, and finally "Bow Tie Day" on April 5, a forerunner of "Bunnies' Bounce". Congratulations are to be extended to the Social Committee on a superb job.

A noon hour entertainment committee was set up, which brought the students several interesting and varied programs. It was held every second week alternating with the film club.

Representatives from the Students' Union were appointed to the career day committee.

Two students were chosen to be part of the planning and cafeteria committee. A loan was made to buy aprons and caps for the cafeteria, and the possibilities of obtaining a cash register were discussed and given whole-hearted approval.

Club Budgets received careful scrutinization as did all financial issues. Custodian Insurance was purchased.

The constitution underwent a thorough examination, with the awards system receiving major consideration.

It was carried by the Council that the advisors have power to make motions, only, in the executive and the council.

A filing system is now being designed, so that permanent records may be kept of student activity.

The sale of tickets for the yearplay "Missouri Legend" and the musical "The Fortune Teller" was taken on by the room representatives following the precedent set last year.

Students will soon see the new score board, which will be put up in the gymnasium.

This year's council should be commended for the initiative, co-operation, unity, and common sense shown in carrying forth their responsibilities. Sincere thanks go to Mr. H. Ward, who proved to be one of the very finest advisors possible. Owing to his help and careful guidance, the council was able to show its ability in making this an eventful and worthwhile year.

DRAMA CLASS PRODUCTION

"MISSOURI LEGEND"

DONNA DICK

DAVE WILLIAMS

FRANCES STAPLES

DAVE SIMMONDS

"Missouri Legend", the Yearplay under the direction of Mr. T. Peacocke and Kathy Low and cast from Vic's three drama classes, was presented in February of this year. The cast in order of their appearances was as follows:

Aunt Belle—Sharon Saul
Billy Gashade—Dave Simmonds
Frank Howard—Lloyd Trupp
Jim Cummins—Alex Hrychuk
Charlie Johnson—Ron Polson
Mrs. Howard—Frankie Staples
The Widow Weeks—Donna Dick

Pop Hickey—Wally Kirk
Sam—Ron Tkackuk
George—Stan Brown
Asa—Orest Kruhlak
Jenny—Lillian Ransom
Old Lady—Kathy Galus
Martha—Gail Hobson

Police Commissioner Gregg—Don Huey
The Reverend—Graham Hallet

The play, a comedy in three acts, was largely the story of Jesse James' kindness to people. Jesse, who masqueraded as Thomas Howard, a business man, to protect his family, would be seen robbing a bank and then giving the poor Widow Weeks a large sum of money to help pay her debts.

Billy Gashade, the folk singer, followed Jesse everywhere, hanging on to what Jesse would say and treasuring every little gift he would give him.

We also see Jesse and his wife in tender moments when she forgives him and decides she'll try once again to be happy with the outlaw she loves.

The well-designed, realistic settings were designed by the Drama Classes. The costumes, properties, and property crew were under Audrey Benson and the set movers were made up of the Drama Classes and interested volunteers. The lighting was done by John Lott and the sound by Oscar Reeves and Alex Dyken.

The play, having been acted and directed so excellently by a group of amateurs, was well received by the audiences. The E.O. Howard Award was given to Dave Williams who played the main character, and Kathy Low received a major activity award. Dave Simmonds, Donna Dick and John Lott all received abilities awards for their work on this effort. The wonderfully honest acting resulted in a fine production encouraged by good direction. Whatever the magic formula is, the Drama Classes have again chalked up another success to bring praise to Victoria Composite High.

Victor Herbert's musical comedy "The Fortune Teller" was presented by the Fine Arts Department of Victoria Composite High, April 11, 12 and 13.

The romantic gypsy tale revolves around a preposterous scheme to save the financial security of the make-believe country of Livonia.

Count Berezowski, commander of the secret police of Livonia has invited the Grand Opera Ballet to a garden party at his chateau.

However, undercover, we learn that he is trying to locate a Royal Lottery Ticket believed to be in the possession of one of the girls in the ballet. The ticket belongs to King Gustaf who is to win the grand prize in the lottery draw the following day, so the count is forced to recover it, or face the king's displeasure.

The count discovers that Irma, the prima donna of the Grand Ballet, has the ticket, but she decides not to yield it. In order to change her mind, he presents a plan that she should marry the count. However, Irma is in love with Capiton Ladislaus of the Royal Hussars.

Irma's twin brother has apparently deserted from the army and in order to save her brother from punishment, she is forced to marry the count.

However, she discovers she can avoid this marriage if she disguises herself as her brother and replaces him at the palace.

She leaves the lottery ticket for the count, but it falls into the hands of Ladislaus and he holds it as a trump card over the count.

Meanwhile a band of apparently mercenary gypsies arrive at the palace and Ladislaus buys the gypsy fortune teller, Musette, from her parents, intending to substitute her for Irma at the wedding.

To aid this the count's monocle is broken and he is practically blind.

The first act closes with the prospect of his marriage to Musette, the gypsy girl.

In act two, the gypsies return to steal Musette, but she has decided to become a countess and sends them away. However, the count has discovered the plot to marry him off to the gypsy girl and insists that Irma keep her promise.

Because the lottery ticket has been stolen from Ladislaus, it seems she must go through with the marriage to save her brother.

At the last minute we learn that her brother has not deserted, but is on a secret mission for the king; and the lottery ticket turns up, but due to a whimsy of the Queen it is no longer significant.

Thus Irma gets her hero, Ladislaus, Musette returns to Sandor, her gypsy lover and the count marries the ballet prima donna, Mme. Pompon.

Musette, the gypsy fortune teller was played by Muriel Howey, and Sandor her gypsy lover was played by Eugene Panchuk.

Irma, the prima donna of the Grand Ballet, was played by Jenny Filipchuk and Captain Ladislaus of the Royal Hussars was played by Bob Selkirk.

Dick Smit played Count Berezowski; Dave White played Fresco, the ballet master; and John McNeill played Boris, Musette's father. Ron Tkachuk was Lieutenant Almir and Ned Rystefaniuk was Lieutenant Timar.

Vera of the ballet was played by Bonnie Glauser; Wanda also of the ballet was played by Kathleen Rusnak, and Mme. Pompon was played by Eleanor Station.

Members of the Glee Club provided the gypsy chorus.

Members of the orchestra were: Judy Friend, piano; Evan Verchomin, Natalka Klybanowsky, Pat Makar, Beverly Insull, Peter Tretiak and Walter Rosiewich, violinists; Ray Magus and Lorne Smith, clarinets; Earl Smith, trumpet; and Lynn Wallace on drums.

Mr. T. Peacocke was the Dramatic Director; Mr. R. Lopatka, the Musical Director; and Miss Grant, Costume Mistress.

EATON'S Guarantee

In 1869 when Timothy Eaton opened his first shop, he decided to sell on a "Goods Satisfactory, or Money Refunded" basis. At a time when there were few research laboratories for testing consumer goods, Timothy Eaton's guarantee gave customers the assurance they needed.

In the modern world, with its wide variety of merchandise EATON'S guarantee still provides Canadian shoppers with a sense of security.

V.C.H.S. Publications

The publications staff of Victoria Composite is responsible for informing the students through four different media. The high degree of co-operation achieved among the large staff plus the time and effort they put in has resulted in publications of a very high calibre.

The Argosy staff has been highly organized, making it possible to publish six editions of the school newspaper. Authority has been divided among several people, many of whom have had their own staffs to direct. This division of labour helped sustain the quality that once won the Argosy a Quill and Scroll Award. This year, more than ever, the various writers and reporters aimed for current, correct, and interesting copy. The material would pass through the typing, copy, and make-up people who prepared it for checking by the editors and advisers, and then for the printers. Meanwhile the business section took care of the soliciting and printing of advertisements.

Separate from the Argosy and under the editorship of two people is the Argo, a mimeographed paper printed between editions of the Argosy to inform students of happenings which would not be current or important if kept until the Argosy was published. In this its third year of existence the Argo has been lauded as having more clarity and interest than it has had before.

Everyone on the publications staff assists with compiling material for the yearbook. Its success is possible because of the effort that is put in by each and every person. As you are now looking through the yearbook, we'll let its quality speak for itself.

Lastly, there is the Handbook. It is distributed in September and contains information that is mainly for the benefit of new students to help them become orientated.

The students of V.C.H.S. have viewed and judged the results of the work of the publications staff, but most have not observed what develops behind the scenes of these results. They have not seen the co-operation and good will among them, the growth of responsibility, and the ambition to do a good job. These results are as valuable as the others and will remain and grow long after these publications are placed in the storage room with other forgotten issues of many years.

Special Rates to School Leagues

Awards

Vic's Awards System

Victoria Composite High School's Award System recognizes those students who have achieved outstanding leadership in academic, athletic, and extra-curricular work. The highest awards in the school are the Citizenship Awards. The C. O. Hicks award for boys and the J. P. Page award for girls are awarded to two Grade XII students on the basis of their services to the school during their high school careers.

Academic awards are given for outstanding achievement in curricular work. The Major Academic Award, this year, was presented to those students having obtained an average of eighty per cent or more. The Special Abilities Award recognizes outstanding ability in the shop subjects and the fine arts field. The Special Award is a service award. The academic, special abilities and special awards consist of pins suitably engraved.

The Tom Davies Memorial Trophy is awarded to the boys of the intramural sports group obtaining the highest number of "trophy points", as allocated in the awards system. The trophy includes all organized houseleague competitions.

The Athletic Major Award recognizes those players of outstanding ability who have played on teams in interscholastic competition. It is a white chenille "V", eight inches high, worn on the awards sweater. The Athletic Minor, a four inch white chenille "V", is for those players on an interscholastic team who have been outstanding players but have not qualified for the Athletic Major Award.

The activities awards, major and minor, are considered as special awards for exceptional work in extra-curricular activities, including both cultural and athletic administration. The Major Award includes activities such as lead parts of excellent plays, orchestra work, musicals and other such activities. Outstanding work on any publication, administrative and executive efforts connected with the Students' Council, houseleague, and club activities involving interscholastic participation are also included.

The Activities Minor Award is intended to give recognition to students of noticeable merit in the above field. The Major and Minor Activities Awards are red Old English "V s", eight inches and four inches in height respectively.

Winners of Academic or Special Pins, and Activity or Athletic crests are qualified to buy Award Sweaters. The pins and chenilles must be worn on award sweaters only. All club crests and insignia must be worn on school sweaters.

Students who have participated on championship school teams, either city or provincial may purchase white sweaters for girls or jackets for boys.

SPORTS

Boys' Senior Football

The 1956-57 football results had Vic, unlike the senior Eskimos, out of the playoff picture. For the first time in several years the mighty red and white senior footballers didn't come through. They ended up a respectable third in the five team loop, winning two games, and losing the same number. However, only the top two teams entered the finals.

The Vicites, under the guiding hands of Mr. Jim Day and also receiving assistance from Mr. Murray Smith, just didn't quite have it.

Although many positions were occupied by former standouts, a number of freshmen were seen on the field who added an extra shot of life to the squad.

The season opener this year saw Vic being trounced by a hard working Scona Composite team 22-6. Vic, it seemed could not get started and displayed a bad attack of fumblytis. In their second contest, Vic, suddenly inspired, managed completely to dominate St. Joe's and defeat them 14-0. The Vicites continued their winning ways in their third game by edging out a surprisingly tough Westglen team 6-0. In their last league game,

Vic met an undefeated Eastglen. Vic had to beat the Eastgleners by 9 points to enter the finals. Even though Vic lost by a 1-0 score, and didn't enter the playoffs, they gained one concession. They gave the eventual city champions their toughest game of the year. Incidentally, the only point of the game came with but 2½ minutes left in the contest.

Particularly outstanding for Vic this year were guard Harry Daynes; halfback, Bob Lindberg; fullback, Ted Frechette; quarterback, Dave Hicks; and end, Gary Day.

Daynes and Frechette co-captained the squad.

Second row: Mr. Day, Ted Frechette, Harry Daynes, Mike Kaburda, Ned Rystephanuk, Ernie Kozak, Don Bishop, Jim Young, Ernie Ewaschuk, Wally Kirk, Mr. Smith.

Boys' Junior Football

 Second row: Jim Paulson, Blair Bloxham, Duncan Hunter, Ken Brown, Lorne Barr, Leon Prodor, George Brodic, Fred Padavell, Alex Kaburda, Bob Schultz, Bill Fox.

For the second time in three years the Vic junior football team had to settle for the role of bridesmaid in the city high school league, as they came second in the seven team league but were unable to capture the championship.

Under the tutelage of Edmonton Husky star, Dick McBride and Husky team manager, Keith Gurdy, the red and white team finished up the regular season in a tie for second and the final playoff spot. Because of Vic's better for and against average, they entered the finals. Despite their season's brilliant record, the Vic team went down to defeat at the hands of a fired-up Eastglen Composite crew in the city finals. They were beaten 7-0, with all the scoring coming in the last five minutes of the hard fought contest. The game was played under adverse weather conditions.

Summary:

Vic 17-Westglen 6
 Vic 8-Scona High 0
 Vic 16-Scona Comp. 0
 Vic 4-Eastglen 7
 Vic 13-St. Joe's 0
 Vic 6-St. Mary's 13

While every member of the team played solid ball all season long, special mention must be made of the fine efforts put out by Dunc Hunter, Ernie Takacs, Ian McNeil, and Ray Kay.

Boys' Senior Basketball

Second row: Ralph Johnston, Irwin Strifler, George Shenkariuk, Joe Bedford, Norm Korol, Gary Day, Mr. Day.

The Vic Composite senior basketball team has finally felt what it is like not to play in the city finals.

After almost a decade, the supposedly mighty Vicites were eliminated in the city semi-finals, after finishing third in the tough six team league. They were preceded by first place and undefeated Scona Composite and second place St. Joe's. Following them were Westglen, St. Mary's and Eastglen respectively.

The Vic squad finished the year with six wins and four losses, losing two each to Scona and Sep. However, both losses to Sep were by just one point, and had Vic won one of the games, the playoff picture might have been different as the team finishing higher in league competition got a one game advantage in the best of three series.

In the opening game of the semi-finals Vic upset favored Sep for an impressive win. Every man played well for the Redmen and each fellow seemed to have that drive and spirit needed for the upset victory. However, in the game that counted in choosing a finalist, Vic was defeated. The final was for Sep, but Vic was in the game all the way and at no time gave up.

Although the Redmen didn't win, we at Vic, have the satisfaction of knowing that we are only losing two members of last year's squad. Also, we have amidst us the holder of the Edmonton high school scoring record for one game. This fellow, Joe Bedford, potted a miraculous 41 points on the second last league game of the year.

The team was coached this season by Mr. Jim Day and was captained by Don Kay.

Particularly outstanding over the season's play was guard Kay, centre Bedford, guard Dave Hicks and forward Ted Frechette.

Kay, Bedford and Hicks made the city all-star team.

Boys' Junior Basketball

Second row: Mr. Simbalist, Barry Benson, Nick Ursuliak, Ernie Ewaschuk, John Fec, Alex Kaburda, Mort Wyne, Alvin Mah, Gordon Wing, Mr. Lust.

After finishing third in the seven team junior league, the diminutive Vic basketball team was eliminated in the city semi-finals.

The hard fighting juniors lost three out of their opening four league games, but then managed to win seven out of their last eight. Following their third loss, Vic switched to an effective man to man defense, and a three guard, one center, one forward offense. Incidentally, following Vic's defensive switch, many of their opponents did the same.

In the semis, Vic met second place St. Joe's with the series being a two out of three affair. Sep. was given a one game advantage because they ended up higher than Vic did in the final league standings.

The opening game of the semis saw Vic trounce their taller opponents 52-33 in a tilt played at Vic. The home team lead throughout and at no time discontinued their spirited play. However, in the game that decided the finalist representative, Sep. eked out a thrilling 42-39 win at Westglen. Vic seemed to outplay their opponents, but Sep. could not miss a foul shot. This caused Vic's ruination, as they gave up 30 points via the free shot route.

"CONGRATULATIONS CHAMPS"

Vic Seniors won the league championship this year. Coached by Mrs. Bodner and captained by Lil Cook, the senior team won all their games except one and went on to win the city championship. After passing the eligibility board the team came out with the following players: Ellen Mae Dyer, Pat Jackson, Sheran Heppler, Ellen Jamieson, June Jamison, Rene Raymond, Isobel Lothian, Barbara Williamson, Sharon Saul, Mac Mc-

Ewan and Lil Cook.

To get into the city-finals, the Vic squad defeated St. Joe's, Eastglen and Scona Composite. Westglen was the only team to beat Vic during the league schedule.

Mrs. Bodner put a lot of time and energy into coaching the senior basketball team and a great deal of thanks should be given to her.

Although the Junior girls failed to win the city championship this year they did do well in the league. The girls, who were coached by Miss M. Irwin, practised in the white gym Monday and Friday noons and Fridays after school in the Red gym.

Who are the members of the fine team? First there is captain, Olga Winchar, Esther Christensen, Carmen Boyd, Donna Carswell, Lorraine McKinnon, Margaret Olson, Ann Saponja. This year four grade elevens and eight grade tens composed the team. A great deal of thanks must be given to Miss Irwin who did a splendid job of coaching the girls. Congratulations girls on your fine showing and your good sportsmanship.

Girls' Senior Volleyball

The senior girls' volleyball team completed their round robin play March 5, after winning five games, tying one, and losing four. The team ended in third place behind Westglen, who had a 10-0 score record, and St. Joe's with a 7-0-3 record.

The round robin series was held at Strathecona Composite, with Scona being hosts on February 12 and March 5, and Vic the hosts on February 19 and 26.

The Vic Team was coached by Mrs. Bodner and the captain was Pat Jackson. Team members were Mae McEwan, Lucille Lohin, Sylvia Chichak, Isobel Lothian, Ellen Jamieson, Sheran Heppler, Barb Williamson, Olga Wasylyshyn, Gail Robertson, and Marjorie McGregor.

Next year, the girls hope that spectators will be allowed at the games. A little of Vic's school spirit goes a long way toward winning games.

Penny Boone, Joyce Sehanchuk, Barbara Jamieson, Ellen Davison, Violet Kurtin, and Irma Kuhn.

The junior team was composed of grade tens, and practised every day after school until the competition and also several days a week at noon. The girls say thanks to Miss Irwin who put so much time into coaching their junior team.

Boys' Houseleague Executive

Second row: Ian Natrass, Benny Bieche, Ted Frechette, Bob Lindberg, Ernie Takacs, Francisco Basac, Don Walker, Graham Rosenthal.

Vic's well organized houseleague set-up, which offers every boy in the school a chance to compete in some sport, ran through another excellent season during the 1956-57 term.

The league, which is one of the best run and strongest in the city, annually includes participation in such sports as flag rugby, basketball, volleyball, and track and field. It is divided into four houses, complete with senior and junior sections, with all grade tens on junior teams and the grade elevens and twelves playing as seniors.

Organized by Mr. R. H. Routledge, while he was physical education director here, the league gives all boys the opportunity to keep up their sporting activities should they not make the school teams.

The past term, the eighth year in which the league has been in existence, saw House Four in the lead for the championship cup by the time the yearbook went to press. However, House One is a close second, followed by House Three and Two respectively.

During the flag rugby season, House One came first with 254 points, while second place House Four had 252. Then came House Three, with 190, and last of all was House Two with 138. In basketball, House Four gained an enormous lead.

They counted 305 points, with House Three, having 167, House One 128, and House Two, 39. Volleyball totals had House One with 268, House Four with 220, House Three with 172, and lastly House Two with 144. Overall totals give House Four a total of 777 points, House One 650, House Three 529, and House Two with but 321 house points.

Last years' winners of the Tom Davies Memorial Trophy, emblematic of houseleague supremacy, was House Three, with Laurie Niewchas as captain. The trophy is awarded to the house which has the largest number of points at the end of the season.

This year, during houseleague election time, something new was brought in. In the past, a house captain and four other members (not grade tens) were elected to represent each house. However, this election saw each house electing a captain, vice-captains, grade 12, 11, and 10 representative.

Many thanks are extended to Mr. H. Hohol and his assistants for the very fine and successful houseleague season which was enjoyed by many this year.

House captains were George Bre-Win, Bill Dann, Murray Operthauser, and Ernie Kozak.

Girls' Athletic Council

 Second row: Marion Hoshko, Ruth Rich, Elda Behnke, Diane Niewchas, Murdina White, Glenda Johnson, Doreen Bartos, Suellen Congdon, Doreen Pakes, Sharon Beach.
 Third row: Melanie Dawson, Gail Robertson, Turid Minsos, Irma Kuhn, June Jamieson, Margaret Roth, Esther Christensen, Judy Jacknisky, Pat Hawkeye.

Above is pictured the hard working group of girls forming the Girls' Athletic Council. The members of the G.A.C. are elected from grade ten physical education classes and the grade eleven and twelve rooms. Under the supervision of our Phys. Ed. teachers, Miss Irwin and Mrs. Bodner, the council had a very successful year. The executive for the council consisted of: President, Pat Jackson; Vice-President, Mae McEwan; Secretary, Sharon Saul; Volleyball Convener, Barbara Williamson; Basketball Convener, Lil Cook.

The task of the G.A.C. was to direct intramural sports. Both Barb Williamson and Lil Cook did a commendable job of organizing league schedules and obtaining referees for all games during the past season. Each member of the G.A.C. was responsible for publicizing intramural activities and handing in to the director the names of the girls who wished to participate in sports.

The main function of the council this year was the forming of a house system equal to the boys' system. This house system meant that all of the girls in the school were divided into four divisions according to the initials of their last names. This system proved successful and will be used in the following years.

The Girls' Athletic Council does much around Vic and will continue to do so if the co-operation is as good next year as it was this year.
